I understand that the FDA is considering whether to change or eliminate required labels on irradiated foods. I ask that the FDA continue to label nuked food. Misleading labels such as "cold" or "electronic pasteurization" deceives the American consumer. Studies have shows irradiation to destroy vitamins and damage the nutritional value of foods. I object to the modification to food by irradiation. Please continue to label these "modified foods" so that they can be avoided by the organic consumer and the American people.

Respectfully,
Andrea Singmaster Gladfelter
